CHAS. M. HICKS HEADS MILAM WAR LOAN DRIVE

Chas. M. Hicks, county superintendent and former President of the Cameron Rotary Club, has accepted appointment as Chairman for the Third War Loan campaign in Milam county.

Mr. Hicks was named at a conference of business leaders here late last week. His duties will be to lead the county workers in the campaign to meet the quota set in the war bond sale to come in September.

In March Milam county oversubscribed its quota by a greater percentage than any other county in the nation.

Oxshier Smith, President of the Citizens National Bank, has again been named Treasury Representative to direct the bond sales in four counties.

It was understood that plans will be mapped during the next few days for the loan drive.

FIRST COLLECTION OF TIN CANS AUGUST 20

August 20th has been announced as the first collection date in Cameron of tin cans for the war effort.

Albert Collins, President of the Rotary Club, has obtained full co-operation from the city government and trucks will make a house to house call. In the event the city trucks do not pick up the cans the trucks of the utility companies will be at your service.

Mr. Collins called upon house wives to give this movement their fullest co-operation by assuring them that trucks will make regular collection. It was believed that cans will be prepared and given to the war effort if transportation is provided.

Ends must be cut out of cans and they must be cleaned and pressed down, preferably with the foot. Place cans in container and in front of your home near street curb so trucks can get them.

Copper is vital to the war effort and copper can be made from the alloys in tin cans.

SECOND FRONT ACROSS CHANNEL SEEMS NEAR

Soviet Russia's demand for a second front in Europe may soon be met.

As President Roosevelt and Winston Churchill began their conference in Quebec the government in Moscow issued a statement that Russia had not been invited but pointed out that the nature of the conference would not embrace matters with which the Reds are concerned.

Observers said this meant dealing with far Eastern matters. Russia is not at war with Japan.

Russia has again demanded that Germany be attacked to relieve pressure on the Red army.

Mass Military movements on the English border indicated an invasion might soon be made. If so the war can and will be won. It cannot be won otherwise.

Sgt. Elton D. Lemley Praised for Work in The Army Air Corps

Staff Sgt. Elton D. Lemley, now stationed at Gunter Field, Montgomery, Ala., has been declared the man of the month by the newspaper at the field.

"Sgt. Elton D. Lemley deserves commendation, not only as the man of the month for the 84th BFT Squadron, but as a model soldier during his entire enlistment with the Army Air Forces. He is a quiet spoken Texan, whose conscientious devotion to duty, demands the respect of everyone who has been fortunate enough to work with him.

"His untiring efforts beyond the call of duty, and his leadership qualities have made him a very high calibre non-commissioned officer, who any commander might be proud of."

Sgt. Lemley's home is at Travis in Falls county.

Law Requires Stamps To Be On Windshield Of Cars; Checkup On

Government stamps are required to be placed on all motor vehicles and a nationwide inspection has begun.

These stamps cost $5 and are purchasable at the Postoffice. They are good for one year and are to be placed on in June.

A great many auto owners have purchased these stamps but have not placed them on the windshield of their cars as the law directs. An auto owner, just because he has bought his stamp, cannot escape the consequences of violation. The stamp must be on the windshield of the car.

W. J. Ott, local resident representative of the Treasury Department, when asked by The Herald, said that he was beginning a check up on cars. All cars not found to have stamps will be noted and the owner contacted. Usually notices are sent to owners.

Mr. Ott who has been of great assistance to income tax payers and all manner of tax payers, since he moved to Cameron, will greatly appreciate the fullest co-operation. His inspection of cars is in the line of duty and all car owners will understand.

If you haven't done so, buy your stamp and if you have the stamp and haven't done so, stick it on the windshield.

AUGUST 20 DATE FOR TIN CAN COLLECTION

Remember the date—Friday August 20th.

FARMERS ARE URGED TO MAKE LABOR REQUESTS

Mr. Chamberlain and a representative of the U. S. Employment Service will be stationed at the Chamber of Commerce office, and farmers in need of labor should make application there, or contact the County Agent's office.

Migratory Mexican labor should be available within two weeks. However, farmers are urged to secure as much local labor as possible, as there is a possibility that this type of labor will not be available in large numbers.

FATHERS FOR MILITARY DUTY DEEMED UNLIKELY

Draft of fathers for military duty was held unlikely Thursday as announcement was made in Washington of a revision of the recent selective service system directive.

Local draft boards had already received instructions to proceed immediately to re-classification of 3A men making up the vast majority of married registrants. Headquarters in Washington set a new record in retraction.

The new order, according to the report, which is to be issued is a blanket exemption from military duty through registration with the United States Employment service or taking work in war industries.

Guarantee of exemption from military service is promised all who take jobs under specified work coverages. A new list of deferrable occupations is expected to cover every phase of economic life.

Administration of the Selective Service system has been the most confusing of all the government activities. Shot through with politics and union labor philosophy the draft act has been destroyed by thousands of contradictory rulings, misunderstanding and down right stupidity.

Some married men with children have already received Class 1A cards while other boards have only recently received their instructions. Many boards proceed in anticipation of draft law changes and within a few weeks have to retract their classifications and rework their files.

Former Cameron Boy Collects Mines Off Sicily Coast

Pvt. Roy Braden of San Antonio has found Sicilian beaches make pretty good Coney islands, if you can clear away the mines.

Braden is one of the American combat engineers in Sicily whose job it has been to clear paths through the heavy German and Italian mine fields for the rest of the army.

According to an Associated Press dispatch, the engineers have taken advantage of lulls in the fighting to turn the Mediterranean shoreline into a good old American bathing beach.

Harold V. Boyle, AP writer with the American forces, reports he came upon Braden with a whole truck load of mines he had collected. The San Antonian was carelessly tossing the mines on the beach as if they were harmless pancakes.

"We have pulled out the caps, so there's nothing left in them but 11 pounds of TNT," Braden explained.

It takes a really big jar to set them off. We have about 150 here. We load them in a rubber boat and take them a couple of hundred feet out into the sea and dump them. It's quicker and an easier way of getting rid of them than blowing them up. We picked up more than 600 of these things in the last three days."

The soldiers bathe on the beach within the sound of enemy artillery firing only a few miles away, Boyle reported.

Mrs. Manning, and daughter, Mrs. Theresia Rose and Miss Mary Zalesky made a business trip to Dallas Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Whites and son, Charles Franklin, of Austin spent a few days of last week in Cameron with relatives.

POPE INSPECTS RAID DAMAGE EARLY FRIDAY

American bombers flown by American pilots were over Rome at 9 a. m. Italian time Thursday to give the Eternal City the worst pounding of the war.

It was the second time American bombers had flown over the city to drop bombs.

The Pope left the Vatican shortly after the raid to inspect the damage.

In a night raid on Turin British bombers took a heavy toll to give effective significance to the statement of Mr. Churchill that Italy will be seared and blasted from end to end before this war is over.

At the same time the bombers were over Rome Americans were rocking the heel and toe of the boot and laying waste to Italian military installations.

According to information to The Herald the damage Thursday was as great if not greater than that inflicted in July when 500 bombers struck at military objectives in the city. Maj. Gen. James Doolittle led the raid again Thursday.

Flying fortresses and Martin Raiders, B-26 medium, attacked Rome. The bombing took place at 9 a. m. Rome time.

There has been no official statement about the bombings except to confirm the news.

The fighting in Sicily is near to end. Friday morning the Allies took Cape Orlando. Some German forces have escaped across the Messina straits, some two miles of water.

Axis prisoners in Sicily now number 130,000.

Big guns of the Red army are now blasting Kharkov. The Soviets are within 5 miles of the big city. Its fall is regarded as a matter of a few days if not hours.

1500 JAP AIRMEN ARE KILLED IN BIG ATTACK

In the most complete and humiliating disaster ever to befall the air force of any nation American airmen early Wednesday destroyed 170 Jap bombers on the air base at Weewah, New Guinea.

The attack was sudden and so devastating that the figure of destroyed planes may run to a higher level. Out of 200 planes, mostly bombers based at the field 170 are known definitely to have been destroyed.

In addition to the planes destroyed 1500 Jap airmen were killed. As the first American bomber roared in over the field the Japs switched on the lights thinking the plane was one of their own. From that point on the devastation was like that at Pearl Harbor. As described in news casts it was the most complete destruction yet wrought on an air force fleet and the number of planes destroyed are only slightly less than the number shot down over London in a single day in September 1940 when the Germans came over in an all out attack.

The announcement of the great victory was made from the headquarters of General MacArthur and came in a special bulletin, first heard in Cameron Tuesday night.

Arabian Nights, New Technicolor Success At Cameron Thursday

Hollywood magic reaches lofty new heights in Universal's "Arabian Nights," according to the flood of enthusiastic raves by critics who have witnessed initial showings of the new Technicolor innovation. The picture presented by Walter Wanger Productions, comes Thursday and Friday to the Cameron Theatre and stars Jon Hall, Maria Montez and Sabu.

Rarely has any cinema venture been anticipated with livelier interest, and reports indicate that the picture will come up to every expectation. It is significant to note that advance announcements stress the adult entertainment element of the film, which would indicate that the full fascination of the original Arabian Nights tale has not been sacrificed.

Crack Comedy on At Cameron Theatre

Something new has been added to the latest edition of Columbia's hilarious "Blondie" films and this time it's not another baby! The something new happens to be that famous funny-man, Hugh Herbert, and when the only guy in the world who's dizzier than Dagwood tries to straighten Dagwood out, audiences better prepare for the most hilarious "Blondie" since the fun-packed series began.

The picture, "It's A Great Life," is on today at the Cameron Theatre with the same lovable characters returning in their familiar roles. There's Penny Singleton as "Blondie," Arthur Lake as Dagwood, Larry Simms as Baby Dumpling (grown up to the stage where he's called Alexander.) Danny Mummert as Alvin and Jonathan Hale again portraying Dag-wood's boss, Mr. Dithers. Two other new names have been added to the cast, with Alan Dinehart appearing as a business rival of Dithers, and little Marjorie Ann Mutchie portraying Cookie, the Bumstead's youngest child.

The story, adapted to the screen from Chic Young's popular comic strip, concerns the Bumstead's many adventures resulting from Dagwood's misguided purchase of a horse named Reggie. The misadventure all comes about when Dagwood mistakenly buys a horse instead of a house.

Herbert, an eccentric millionaire, practically falls in love with the animal and invites the Bumsteads out to his estate to join him in a fashionable fox-hunt. Dithers, anxious to close a real estate deal with Herbert, persuades Dagwood to accept the offer and then the fun begins. Eventually matters get straightened out.

"It's A Great Life," which should certainly be great fun for all moviegoers, was produced and directed by Frank Strayer from a script written for Columbia by Connie Lee and others.

Mrs. J. L. Clinton who has been with one of her daughters in Corpus Christi who has moved to California to make her home, was here last week and spent a few days. ## REPORTS SAY BERLIN TO BE DECLARED OPEN

Rome has been declared an open city.

The Badoglio government declared the Italian capital an open city early Saturday following the raid by 500 American bombers on the city Thursday.

The Rome radio said that 214 persons were killed and 750 injured. The Americans bombed the city for the second time on Thursday, hitting military objectives. Bombs fell on the King's stables and within 200 yards of his palace.

Shortly after the raid the Pope inspected the ruins caused by the bombs.

A Swiss report said that the Germans were planning to declare Berlin an open city.

When cities are declared open the declaration is subject to verification through neutral governments or by actual inspection by the representatives of the belligerent powers.

Declaring a city open is done primarily to save historical and cultural objects and to prevent its destruction. When the Germans began to bomb Paris in 1940, the French government moved to Versailles and declared Paris an open city.

The Americans have said that Rome was bombed because of the railroad facilities there. If these facilities are abandoned and all other military establishments removed the Allies could afford to regard the declaration, otherwise Rome must be bombed as was Warsaw, Athens, Antwerp, Belgrade and London.

No British bombers have taken part in the attacks on Rome.

There was no confirmation on the Swiss report that Berlin had been or would be declared an open city.

The Axis, including Italy, have bombed and destroyed the capital city of every nation they attacked, with the exception of London and Paris.

The Americans and British are soft. They keep all commitments as well. By the same process it might be wise to declare Italy an open country and Germany an open country. That would keep the bombers out. If London were declared an open city it would do no good. The Germans would attack it for they attacked open cities all during the early days of their aggressions. Manila was declared an open city. The Japs bombed it incessantly.

Tokyo, if declared an open city, which it will be when the Americans finally arrive with bombers, would be by the same sob philosophy, be saved.

A full scale evacuation of Germans from Sicily is on. The fighting there is due to be over within a few days if not hours.

The Red army has entered Kharkov.

AMERICANS FIGHTING IN MESSINA STREETS

Americans were fighting in the streets of Messina Tuesday, troops from Oklahoma spearheading the hand to hand fighting which is closing the book of a bloody chapter in this war.

Axis troops have all been evacuated except small units left to die in rear guard fighting.

It was generally said, even by the Axis that Sicily is lost to Germany and Italy and that the Allies are closing out the campaign there.

An early invasion of Italy was forecast.

The war Tuesday was confined to air activity over France and England. American bombers and fighter planes had engaged in bitter combat over Paris, shooting down 37 German planes while the British were delivering knock out blows to Milan in Italy and attacking military targets in Germany.

Developments in the war will be slow. News on the home front will be more important now that Roosevelt and Churchill are meeting at Brenner Pass.

Newspaper correspondents arriving in Quebec Tuesday were unable to penetrate the secrecy of the conference. Our guess is that they will discuss post war problems, the increasing coolness of Stalin, the prospect of a separate peace between Russia and Germany and some way to persuade Italy to quit fighting.

The conference may on the other hand produce great military results. No doubt a joint statement will soon say that "far reaching results may be expected for the future resulting from the conference just concluded."

One of the most radical developments of the day was the signing of a document by President Roosevelt permitting miners to work 8 hours per day.

Ed Senkel transacted business in Cameron Monday.

GERMANS ESCAPE TO ITALIAN MAIN LAND

The Germans had saved a major portion of their equipment and troops.

At noon the American 7th army was within 6 miles of Messina where the Italian boot is only 2 miles away.

It was generally conceded that the fighting in Sicily is over.

British and American bombers hit the Italian Mainland in a series of heavy raids over the week end. The attack by air was climaxed by the heaviest raid so far in Milan where the Mayor was reported to have quit.

The London press was boiling up over the Italian declaration that Rome be regarded as an open city. The British government while not as yet participating in the bombing of Rome was inclined to discount the open city declaration.

Invasion of the mainland of Italy can now be undertaken but it was believed that several weeks might elapse.

In Washington President Roosevelt's Evacuation of Sicily by the Germans has been completed, according to reports Monday.

called in high ranking officers for a conference at the White House. The President is soon to leave for Quebec in Canada for talks with Winston Churchill.

The RAF lost 10 planes over Italy Saturday and Sunday. American airmen based in England were over France and the Netherlands, losing one large bomber and one fighter. They shot down 5 German planes.

"Bobby" Persian Cat Missing; May Have Been Stolen

"Bobby" yellow Persian cat belonging to Mrs. Henry Dreyer is missing.

If you see "Bobby" anywhere please call Mrs. Dreyer at 352 for she is very anxious to find him. Bobby has never left home and Mrs. Dreyer fears he has been stolen or may have been picked up by someone passing along the street.

"Bobby" is a very intelligent, fine pet, keeps a daily routine, knocks on the door in the morning to get in and always comes running when called. He also knows when meat is in the refrigerator and usually makes a fuss until he gets it.

Anxiety for pets when lost is genuine and only those who love them can appreciate the feeling. Let's try to find "Bobby" for M-s. Dreyer.

"Pride of Yankees" Story of Gehrig is Played by Cooper

Telling with unforgettable effort the story of a great American, a poor immigrant's son who became one of the greatest sports figures of all time and an inspiration to millions of American boys, "The Pride of the Yankees" stars Gary Cooper as the immortal Lou Gehrig, Teresa Wright, Babe Ruth and Walter Brennan head the featured cast of this Samuel Goldwyn production at the Milam Theatre Sunday, August 22.

Although baseball forms the colorful background of the picture, that background is merely incidental to the human story of Gehrig himself and his remarkable career, told with a wealth of detail and accuracy that makes the picture a genuine personal document.

Beginning with Gehrig as an 11 year old kid from New York's Amsterdam Avenue, penniless but hopeful, and even then able to bat a ball farther than anyone else in his gang, the film carries on through the boy's school days and his college years when he waited on table to put himself through his engineering course. Only his mother's insistence on his studies kept him from becoming a professional ball-player, and later, when he needed money to pay her hospital bills, he gladly abandoned his engineering to sign a contract with the New York Yankees.

This was the start of Gehrig's amazing 14-year record with the Yankee club, during which time he shattered scores of marks and set new ones that may never be equalled.

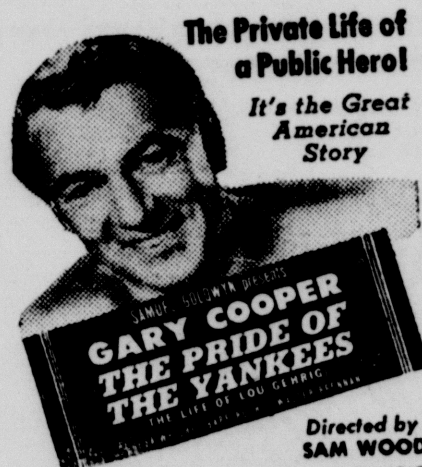

His romance with Eleanor Twitchell, the Chicago girl who became his wife, his loyal supporter through all his triumphs and through the grim onslaught of the paralysis that brought his career to an end, motivates the film, and makes it the realistic human document that it is.

Fittingly enough, the picture has its conclusion on the most memorable day of Gehrig's career—"Lou Gehrig Day," when cheering crowds packed the Yankee Stadium on a July afternoon in 1939 to bid a last farewell to the greatest Yankee of them all.

Very much like Gehrig in his innate simplicity and kindly personality, Cooper has perhaps his most impressive role to date in portraying the famous athlete, a role that some critics believe surpasses his Academy-Award-winning portrayal of another famous American, Sergeant York.

Teresa Wright, Goldwyn discovery who scored so notably as Bette Davis' daughter in "The Little Foxes," has the role of Eleanor Gehrig. Babe Ruth plays himself as the famous Yankee home-run slugger, and Brennan is cast as Gehrig's newspaperman-sponsor, Sam Blake.

Bill Dickey, Bob Meusel and Mark Koenig of the Yankee club and sports announcer Bill Stern also play.

With Veloz and Yolanda, Ray Noble and his Orchestra. Screen Play by Jo Swerling and Herman J. Mankiewicz. Original Story by Paul Gallico.

New Draft Regulation Seen as Purely One To Get Workers

The new draft regulations just issued by the Selective Deferment System while represented as a threat to fathers, is no more than a labor procurement edict sent out by the War Manpower Commission.

Any father who wishes to escape military duty may register with the Federal Employment Service. He will be given 30 days to secure a job after he has been classified in 1A if he is so classified.

New regulations will come out prolonging the inactive period and registrants will not be disturbed, it was believed.

The list of non-deferable occupations do not exist except in limited numbers in a very restricted area of the country. Nearly all non-deferable jobs were already declared some months ago. No registrant will be affected locally by this list.

Jobs not mentioned may affect some local registrants, depending on what comes after the memorandum, just received.

The Chairman of the Draft Board at Woodville in Wood county resigned Monday because he said he could not be a party to draft of fathers when millions of single men are enjoying security and safety at home.

The list of critical occupations does all but make deferment unanimous. Draft boards are left no registrants whatever to send to the army except those coming 18 years of age and a smattering to be gotten out of industry through the operation of the replacement schedule.

It was agreed that while the above appears to be the substance of the new order, clarification might make it even more so or liberalize it. Changes are made so fast Draft Boards for the most part now sit and wait for something substantial to come along.

TO THE PUBLIC

As one of your Electricians I feel it my duty to call your attention to the dangers of electric current.

As we are using our old iron cords and our old extension cords, fan cords and many other electrical appliances that have been repaired, be as careful as you can. If in the yard, get on a dry board to turn on a light; if on concrete floors do the same. If in the house see that the floor is dry.

Repair jobs are not like new appliances. One wire in your house is already grounded and should you come in contact with the other wire, and you are on the ground or some wet place, it is going to hurt you and maybe fatally.

Fittingly enough, the picture has its conclusion on the most memorable day of Gehrig's career—"Lou Gehrig Day," when cheering crowds packed the Yankee Stadium on a July afternoon in 1939 to bid a last farewell to the greatest Yankee of them all.

Very much like Gehrig in his innate simplicity and kindly personality, Cooper has perhaps his most impressive role to date in portraying the famous athlete, a role that some critics believe surpasses his Academy-Award-winning portrayal of another famous American, Sergeant York.

Teresa Wright, Goldwyn discovery who scored so notably as Bette Davis' daughter in "The Little Foxes," has the role of Eleanor Gehrig. Babe Ruth plays himself as the famous Yankee home-run slugger, and Brennan is cast as Gehrig's newspaperman-sponsor, Sam Blake.

Bill Dickey, Bob Meusel and Mark Koenig of the Yankee club and sports announcer Bill Stern also play.

Dependable POWER
on the Ground Keeps 'Em in the Air!!

HITLER, Tojo and Mussolini now know what the people of this country have known all the time... that an American flyer, reared in free, democratic America is worth several of their regimented robots.

ALL THE fast-moving, hard-hitting American flyers are not trained and equipped in Texas, but a great many of them are. The building and equipping of Air Force fields and bases called for a degree of efficiency and speed which only American industry, grown great and capable under the free enterprise system, knows how to deliver. And in every operation, dependable electric service was of vital importance.

THIS COMPANY now serves nine installations used in the Air Force war program... nine air fields and training schools which require as much electricity as normally used by an entire city of some 50,000 population. In every instance, electric service for construction and for operation of these fields was ready ahead of demand. In a like manner, the Company has met fully the requirements of all military installations and war industries... ahead of demand, and without curtailing service for civilian needs.

THIS COMPANY has been able to deliver the power when needed and where needed because of 31 years of planning and building a system and an organization in the American Way... the free enterprise way... to be always ready ahead of demand.

WINNING the war is the big job now for all. And to this end our facilities and resources are dedicated... to win the war as quickly as possible, and to do such a thorough job of it as to forever discourage the dictators who seek to destroy our freedom... our American Way of Life!

WORLD LOOKS TO QUEBEC CONFERENCE

Despite the imminence of the fall of Kharkov now almost completely encircled by the Red army and the outbreak of violent fighting around Smolensk, the conference between President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Winston Churchill to be held in Quebec, Canada, was the most talked of war development.

In Italy the press was speculating on the meeting and Germany was certain the conference might produce that second front which Russia has been demanding so long.

The Herald was inclined to believe the meeting between the heads of the English speaking world would include peace talks and post war problems.

Mr. Roosevelt's visit to Quebec will be a closely guarded secret. Mr. Churchill arrived in Niagara Falls, Canada early yesterday.

The Red army was grinding ahead with great power. The Germans in Sicily were all but surrounded and their escape cut off. Technicians and officers were said to be getting out and escaping by air.

The German air force attacked English towns Wednesday night. The RAF was over Germany and a noon report said that both United States Fortress bombers and medium bombers were over the industrial Ruhr pounding German factories.

Clyde Vaughan Badly Wounded in Pacific Theatre of War

Clyde Vaughan, United States Navy has been severely wounded somewhere in the South Pacific theatre of war. A letter received here Thursday by Mrs. Vertie Hightower, sister, was written by Clyde who said that he could not tell her how badly he was hurt but the wounds would heal with time.

Clyde enlisted in the Seabees and has been in New Caledonia and other places where the Seabees work in close conjunction with the armed forces. It is believed he may now be in the New Hebrides group.

Will Vaughan, deputy sheriff, telephoned The Herald to say that his brother had been wounded. The letter was written on August 4th.

Weaver Vaughan, another brother, is in the Seabees and is somewhere in the area where Clyde was wounded.

Magazines Are Coming In for Wounded Men

Magazines are coming in for wounded men in the McClosky hospital in Temple.

According to information reaching The Herald the magazines from Cameron are larger in number than from any other locality.

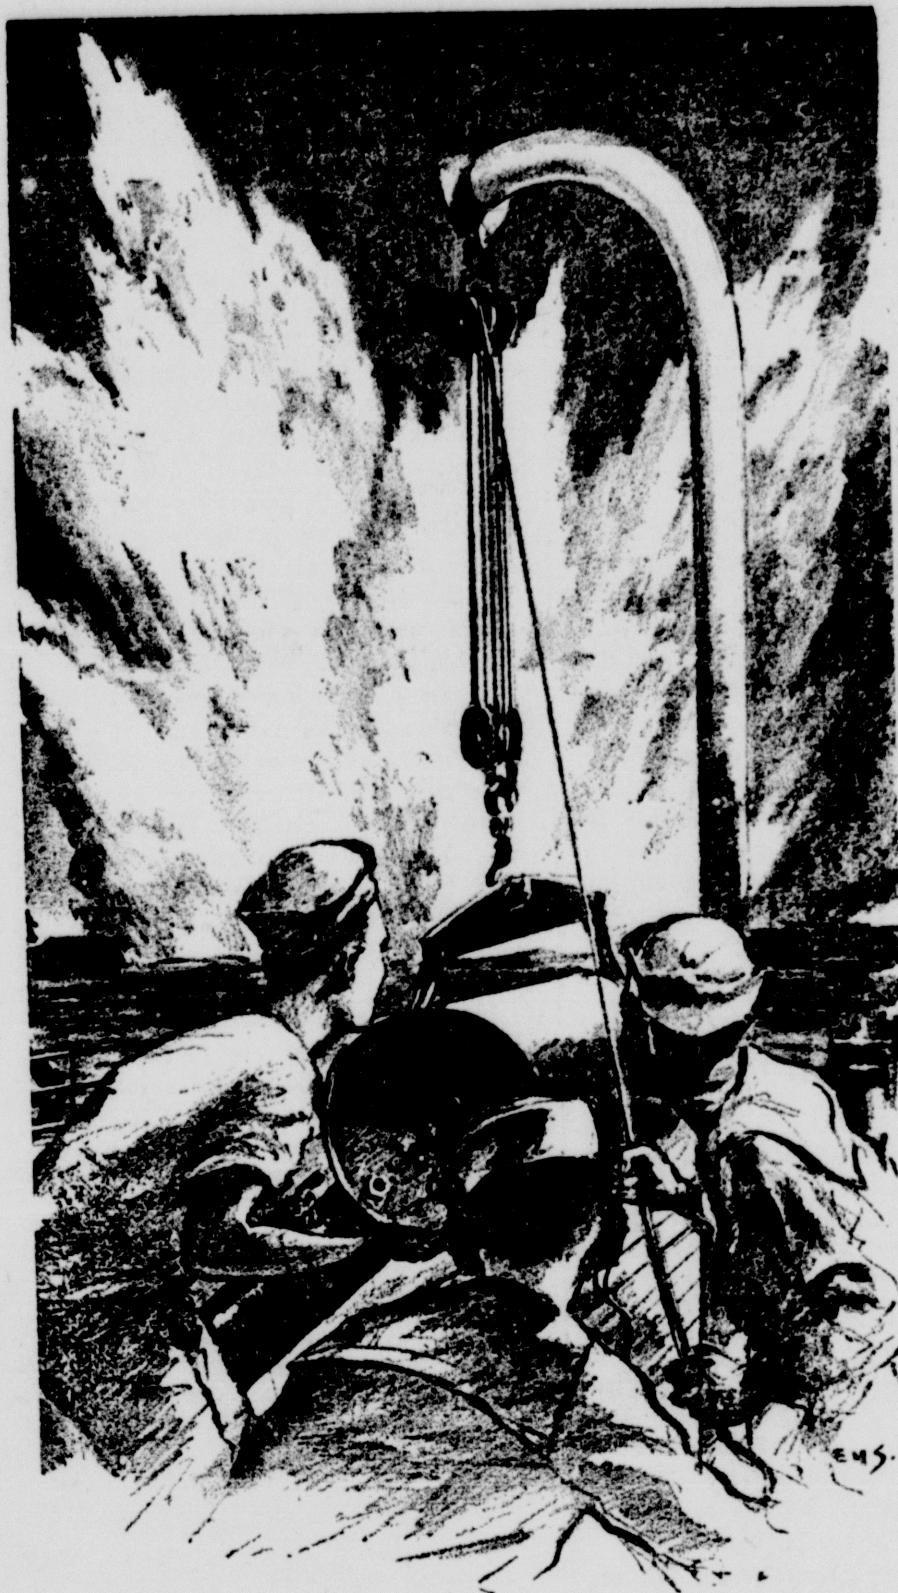

Early Friday Mrs. H. L. Yager of Maysfield brought in a car load. So many have contributed that names have escaped us but the large number brought by Mrs. Yager deserves special mention. In the lot were a large number from Mrs. George Peets of Maysfield.

This is a splendid thing to do. If you could see some of the men, in deed all of them you would understand what we owe to them. A few magazines are little enough but mighty important in the lives of those boys who are in from the fox holes of New Guinea, Rendova and Guadalcanal. Some of them will never walk again, may never see outside the hospital. Reading gives them courage and strength to meet the ordeal.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Reese of Odesa are spending a few days here with friends and relatives.

Lt. J. C. Mayfield, Jr., has been in Cameron for several days visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mayfield. He is an instructor at Randolph Field.

Blasting for Axis Oil

"Torpedo starboard stern," cries the watch . . . The bells in the engine room ring excited orders . . . The transport veers sharply in its course . . . "Wheew," whistles the captain as the tin fish passes harmlessly by, "that was a close call."

Already a subchaser was racing to the spot where the enemy submarine crash-dived. The Y-throwers go into action . . . Wider and wider the spot is circled . . . Geysers of water mark each detonation . . . Then a yell from the crew as the sea boils up a film of Axis oil and debris . . . The last bomb found its mark.

Though it had been weeks since the Y-guns had seen action, every part of the mechanism functioned perfectly. Non-corrosive grease, marine paints, rust preventives protected all working parts against the insidious attacks of the salt air of the sea.

Figuratively the uses of oil in war are myriad and their importance cannot be overestimated (see partial list below). These products are made available for war and industry through leadership in petroleum research, the same research which produces for your car and truck Esso and Humble gasolines, Esso, 997 and Velvet motor oils.
